

USING THE CUSTOM KITCHEN PLANNING STORAGE CHART as a Modular Mate Party ACTIVITY

Use the Kitchen storage charts as a valuable tool for your parties and make sure it is in the host party planning packet.

Hand one to each party guest and have them put a check mark beside every product listed that is in their pantry and then circle those that they already have in MM. Award one point for each pantry item they have and 2 points for each circle. Have fun with the guests as they interact with each other seeing who has what in their pantry!!

Give gifts/auction dollars/tickets, etc. to those that have the most points and the least points. This activity is first relevant to the MM party but gives you valuable information about the guests. The guests then can keep the chart for their own reference.

For the person that has the most points, it tells you that they cook/bake a lot. It tells you what "centers" they use the most and which of those that need to be organized first with MM. For the person with the least points, you find out how much/little they cook at home. So for their own party maybe they need to see the time/money saving solutions using microwave cooking. Then they can see how buying/storing in MM will benefit them even more.

Using the chart also saves some time with questions at the party about what shape/size 10 lbs. of flour fits in, etc. as they already have that info. in front of them. It will be surprising how much you learn about the guests just by using the storage chart!!
